Volume 8 Number 5

Photo shows Celphere microcrystalline cellulose spherical seed cores coated with vitamin B2 using Powrex Multi-Plex MP-01 rotating fluid-bed coater at the company's R&D laboratories in Nobeoka, Japan. Cores remained intact during processing, unlike sugar spheres, which were destroyed. Smooth cores feature high mechanical strength and sphericity; low reactivity; and as much as 110 percent water absorption. Five particle size ranges span 106 to 850 microns. Cores meet USP-NF, PhEur, and JPE requirements. Courtesy of Asahi Kasei America, New York, NY. Tel. 212 371 9900, fax 212 371 9050. Website: www.ceolus.com.
